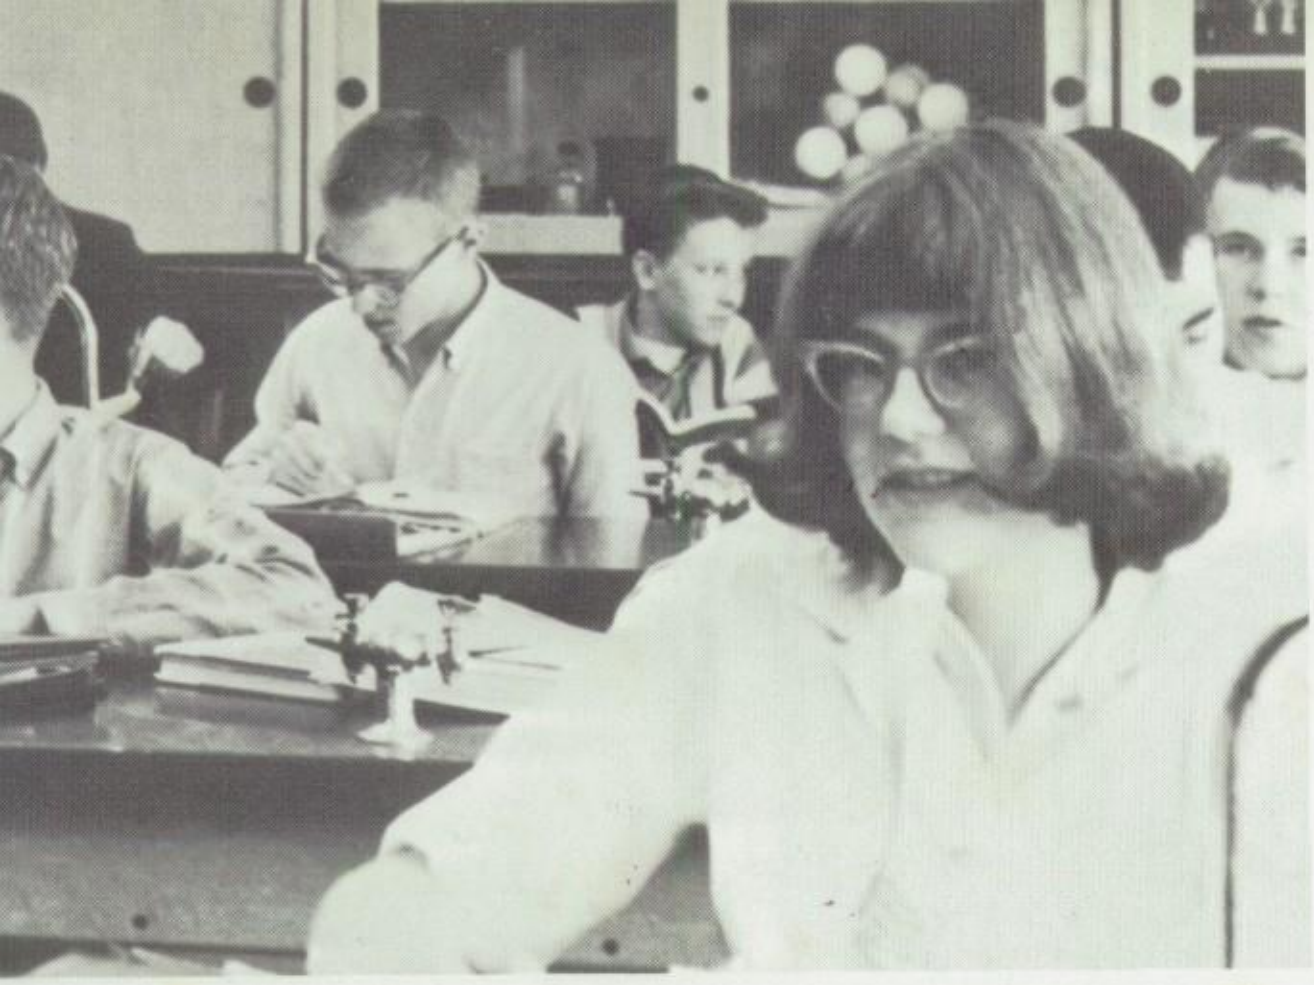
VOYAGER . . . 1966

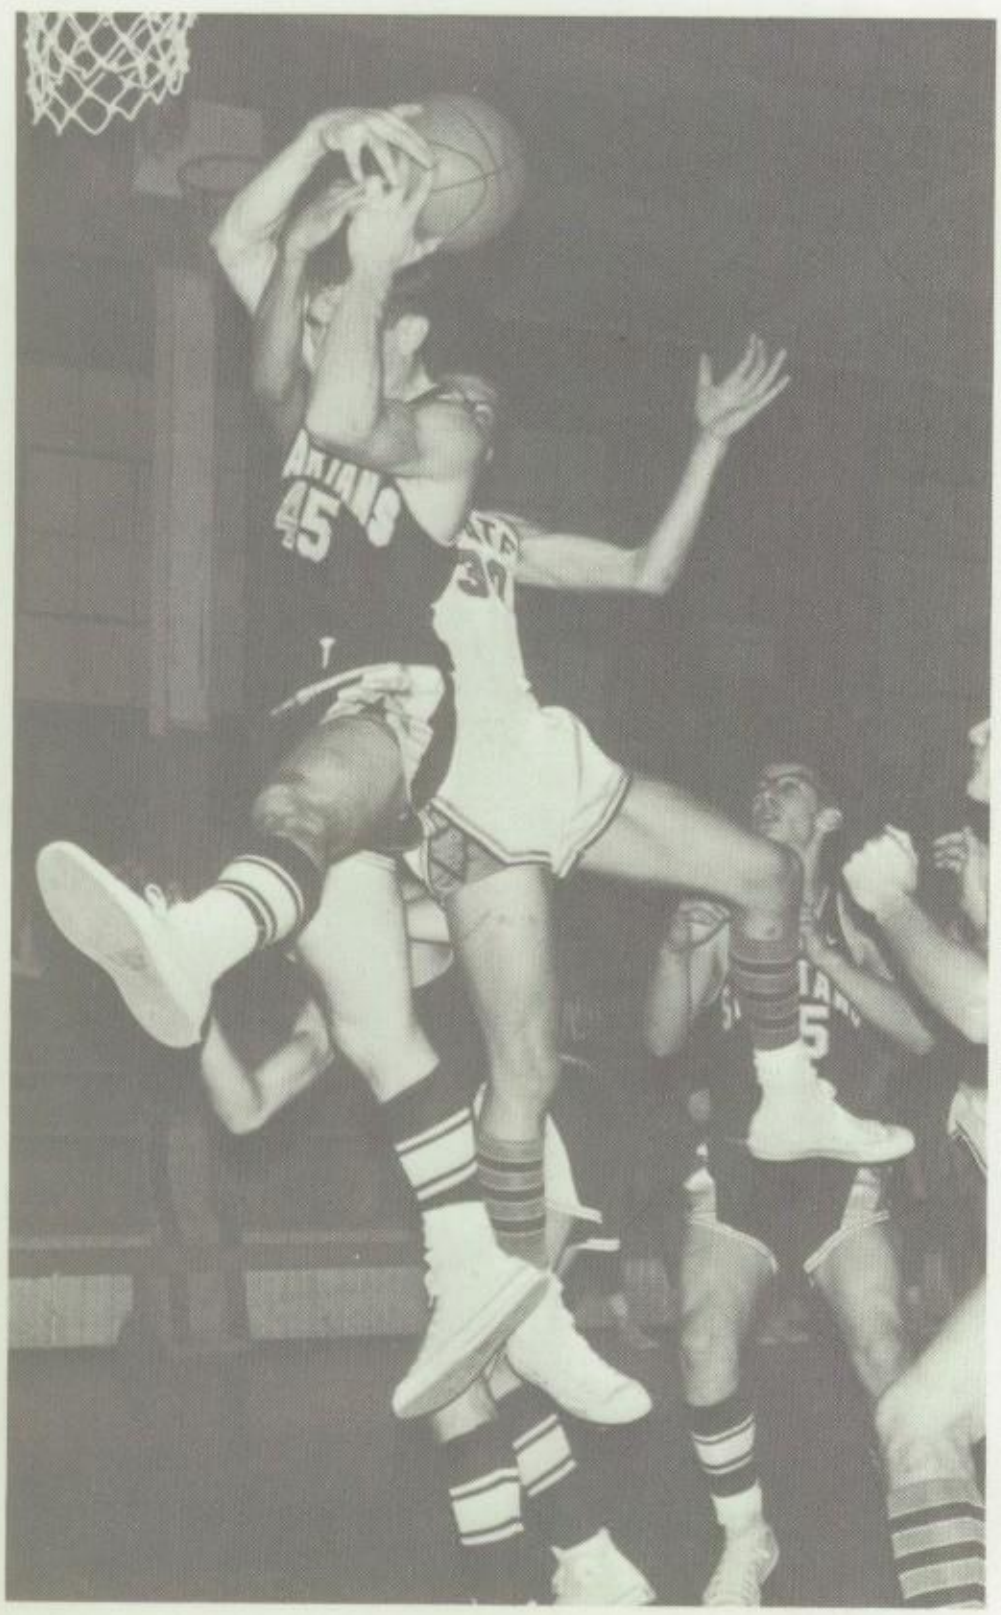
BRISTOL HIGH SCHOOL

BRISTOL, INDIANA

School-life includes more than just the academic and vocational angle. It includes the development of the minds, the growth of the personalities, and the budding of the social lives of the student.

The goals and aims of each individual student depends on the characteristic tastes of each. But the goal of education is to develop the whole person in order that he may have a better foundation on which to base his life.





It is the student who puts forth his maximum who has the strongest foundation. A variety of interests makes for a well-rounded individual whose creativity is passed on to future generations. We wish to pass this yearbook on to you in hopes that you may better appreciate the many facets of an education and enjoy its rewards.

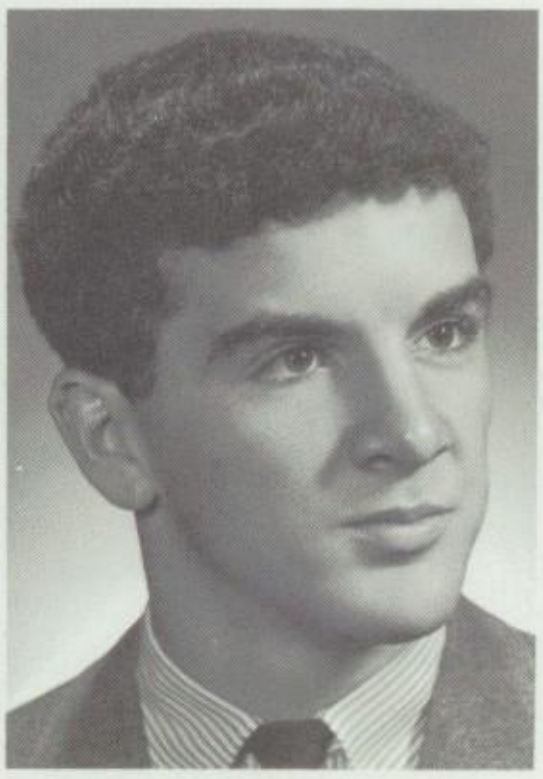
Sue Ellen Crume

She has blonde hair and blue eyes bright.
When she does something she does it right.



Edwin Ernest Davis

Here's a boy who doesn't lack
For pranks to pull or jokes to crack.

William Arthur Dempster

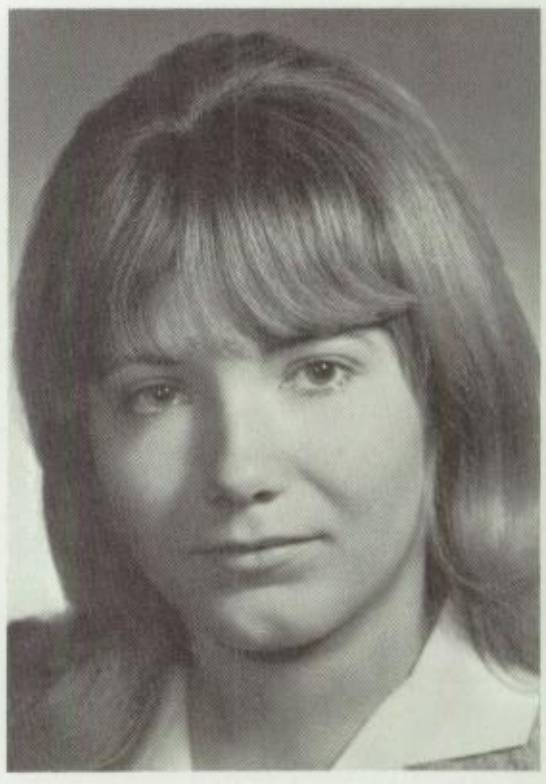
If this boy you ever see,
You know your day will brighter be.

Monda Sue Dempster

Here's a girl who isn't shy.
You can bet her limit will be the sky.

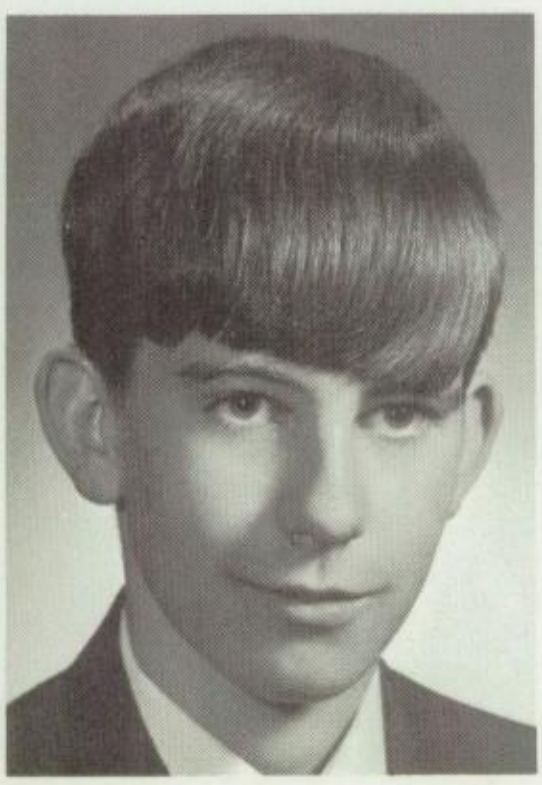
Eugena May Detwiler

Eugena is a happy lass.
In all she does she is first class.



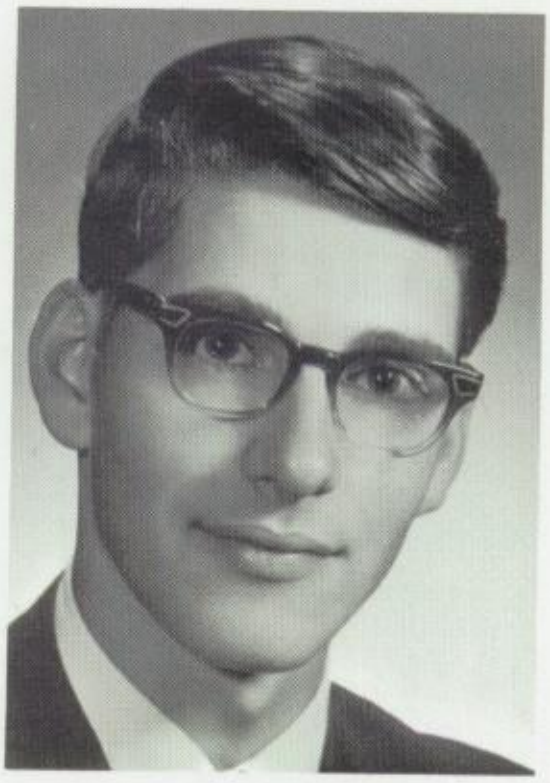
Sue Elaine Engle

Her voice is soft, her talents many.
Her help she'll give to all and any.



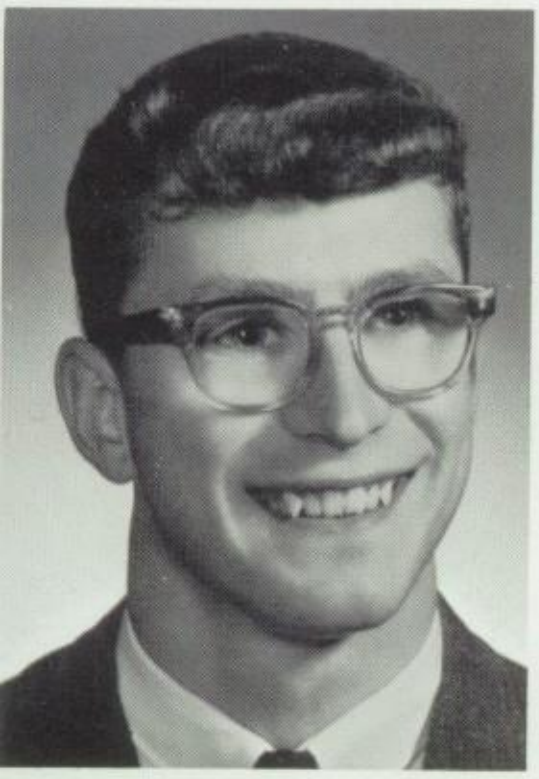
Daniel Mark Frame

Listen close and bend your ear.
He says things you all should hear.



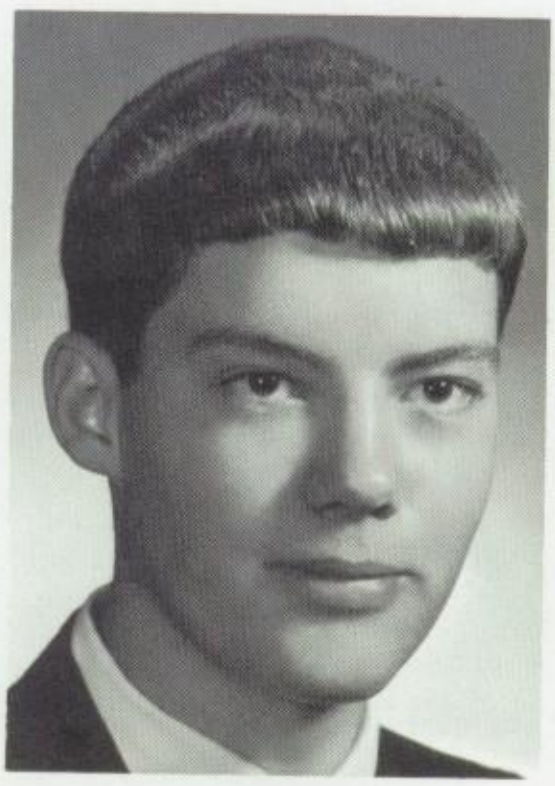
James E. Garver

This boy's name, of course, is Jim.
We wish all the best for him.



John Frederick Gonser

John can tackle anything.
Success his future soon must bring.

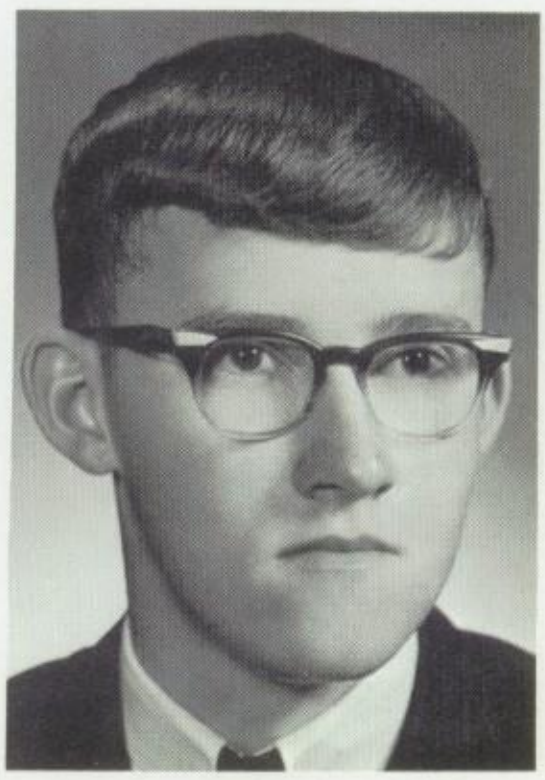


Daniel Harry Gorden

Here's a boy who's his own man.
Best of luck for your future, Dan.

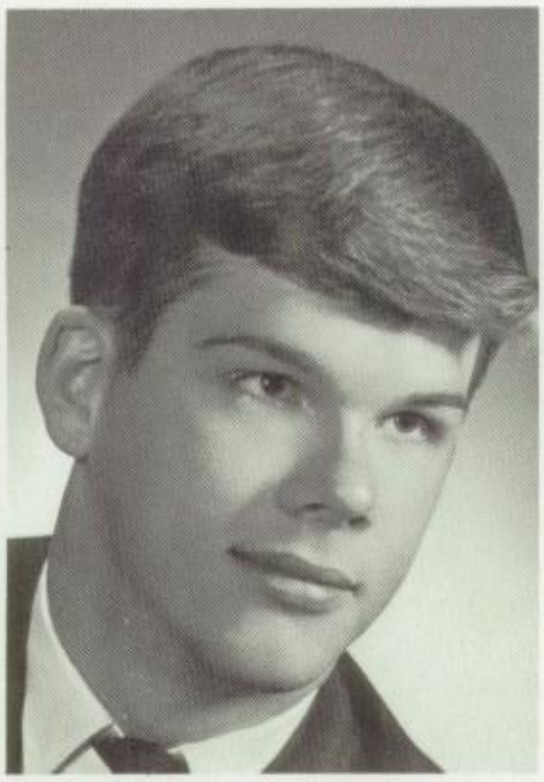
Margie Elaine Green

If she does it--it will get done.
She's ability and energy all rolled in one.



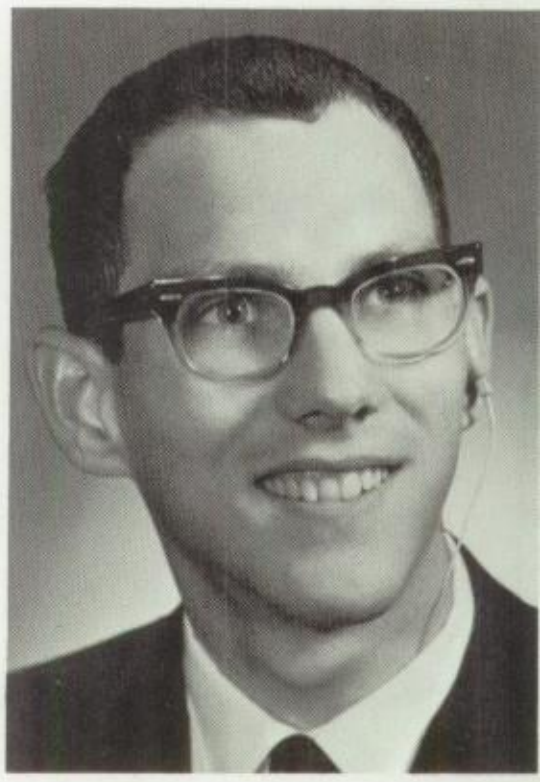
James Dale Hamilton

Jim never has too much to say.
But, listen when he does and it will pay.



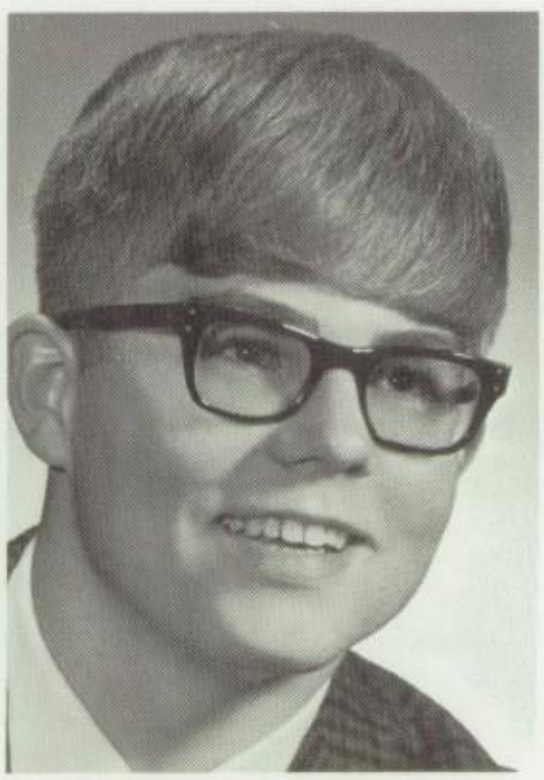
Russell Eugene Hohman

If this boy you ever need,
Your call for help he'll always heed.



Frederick Hieber Kantner

Fred's a boy we're sure you'll find
Will bring you joy by being kind.

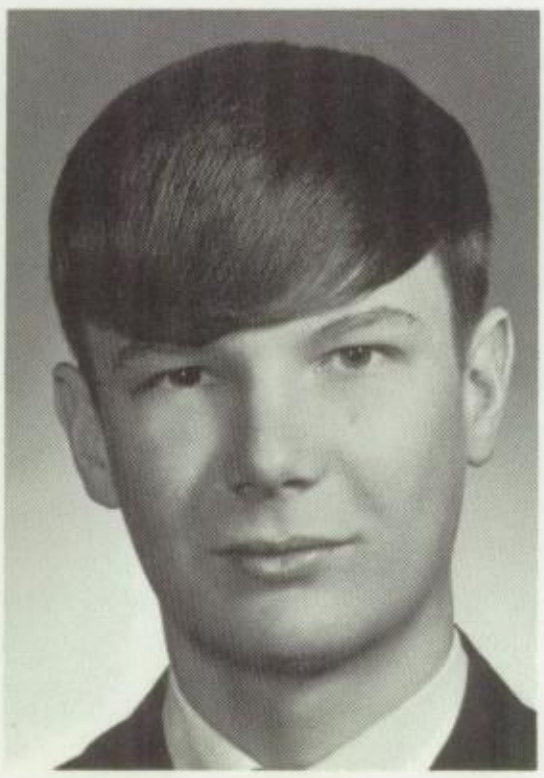


Michael David Kemp

On the outside he's aloof and cool.
But on the inside this boys no fool.

Brice LaRue Kratzer

Here's a boy who good will fare.
Before he's thirty he'll be a millionaire.



Timothy James Lamb

Master of the joke and pun,
Remembering him is remembering fun.

Patricia Louise Lawrence

Pat's a girl who's really smart.
Plus she'll always do her part.

Linda Mae Lehman

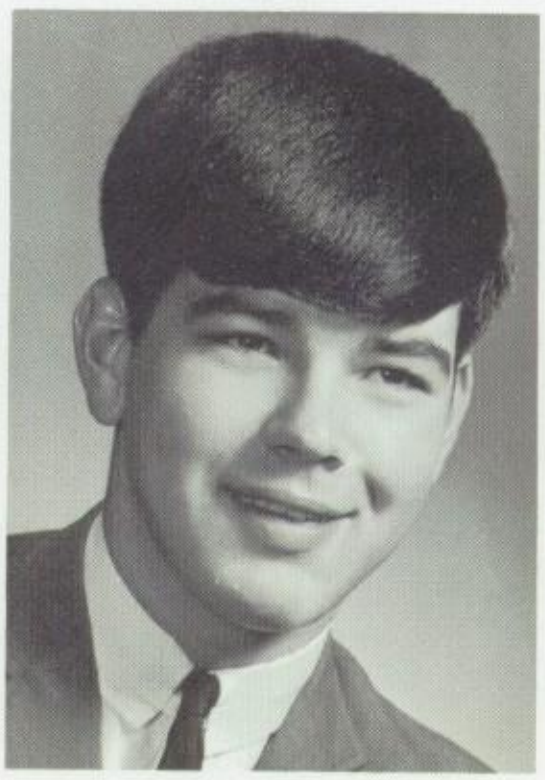
Linda has so many traits
That tell us why first class she rates.

Diann Sue Mahoney

Art is this girls claim to fame.
And writing too is in her game.

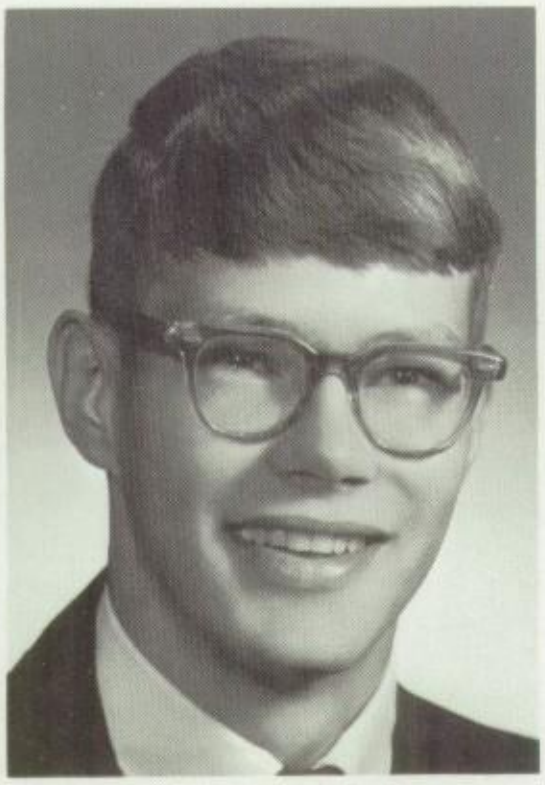
Robert Lee McFall

Bob's a boy who's always there
To help with all and do his share.



Michael Richard Peters

Mike Peters is a friendly guy.
Always happy--never shy.

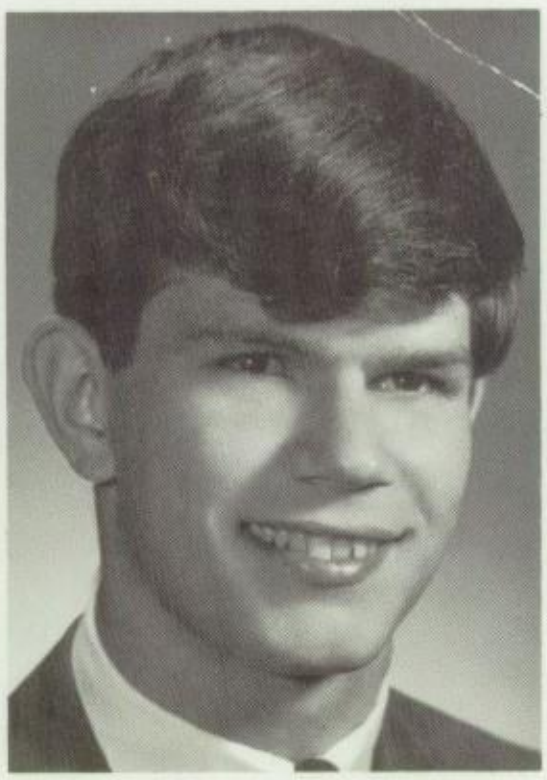


Walter Albert Repaich

Wally brings us so many joys.
He's one of our favorite senior boys.

Gloria Christine Smead

Here's a girl who leads the cheers.
For her future we have no fears.

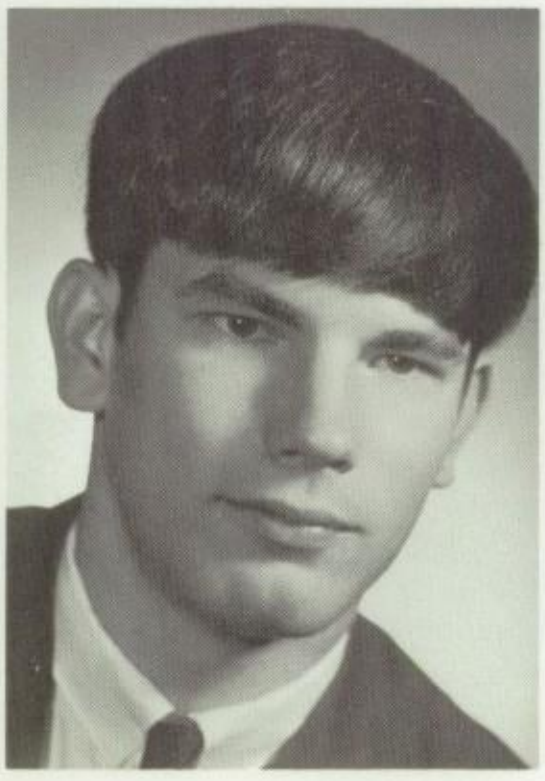


Gerald Raymond Stults

In basketball he is a star.
All we know is he'll go far.

Diana Jeane Stutsman

With auburn hair and eyes of blue,
Success is in her future too.

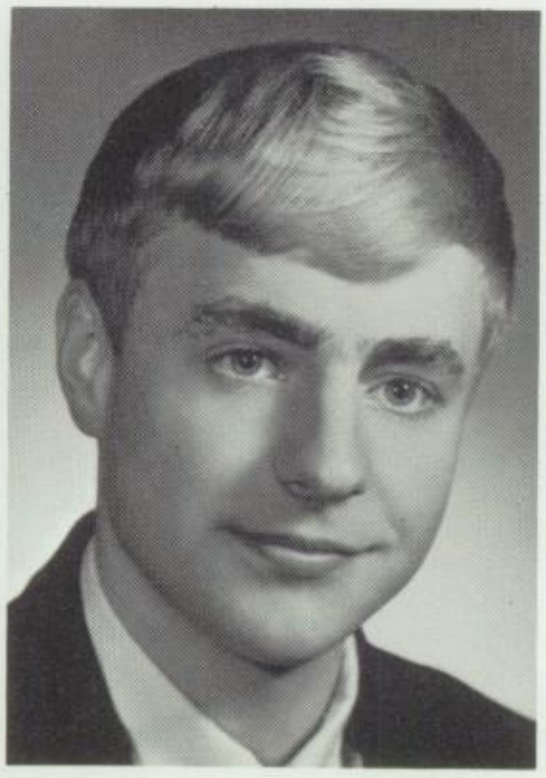


Stephen Douglas Stutsman

Rhythm and Blues is this boy's beat.
With anyone he can compete.

Wilburta E. Waddell

Small of size and so petite.
Here's a girl who's always sweet.



Reginald Lee Walker

Here's a boy who's train of thought
Is seldom by another caught.

Hal Joseph Weatherwax

Here's a boy who loves all sports.
He's happiest when he's on the court.

Dorothy Linda Windbigler

Linda's smile is always there.
She can bring happiness anywhere.

Kathleen Ann Zinn

Kathy is a friend thats true.
She'll always be right back of you.

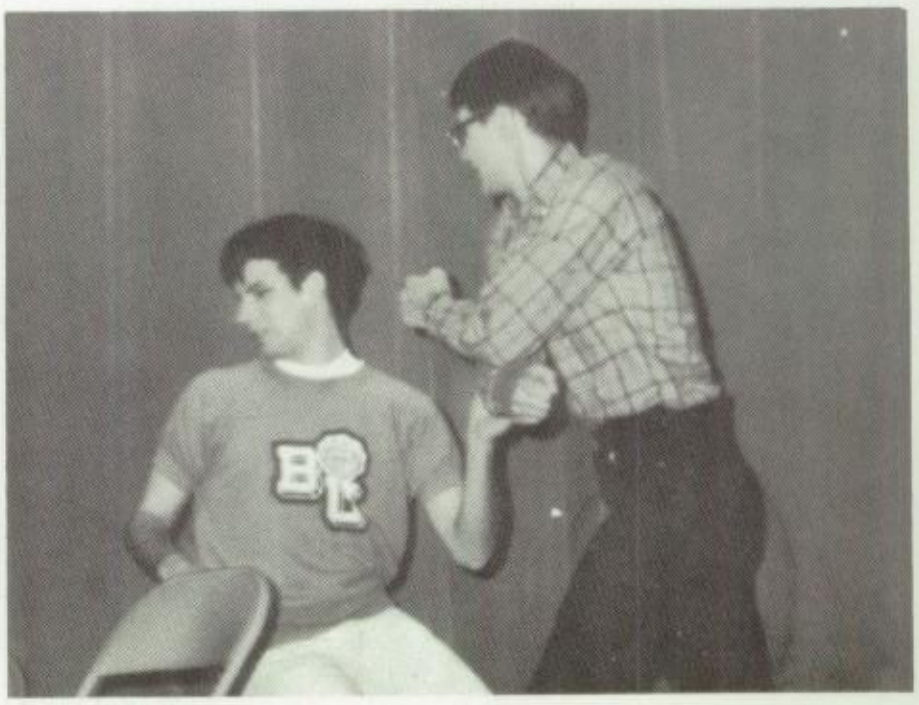
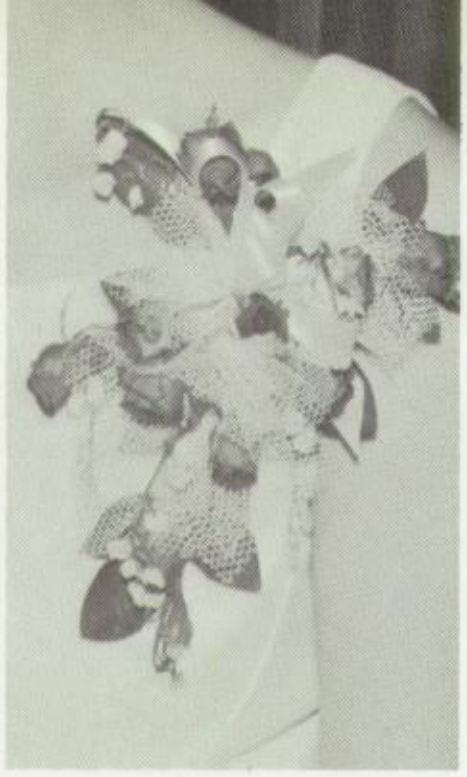
CURTAIN GOING UP



STRANGER IN THE NIGHT



SINGING IN THE RAIN

The Jr.-Sr. Prom was held at the Elks Club on May 21, 1966. There was a dinner followed by a dance. The music was provided by the Cat-tels. The queen elected this year was Linda Windbigler. The Senior attendants were Pat Cooper and Christine Miller. The Junior attendants were Judy Swartz and Mary Ann Bloomingdale.
